

FLOOD STUDY

Council is undertaking a Flood Study to deliver more accurate flood mapping, improved planning tools and flood management outcomes across Buloke Shire.

Community knowledge and input will play an important role in the study and residents are encouraged to attend upcoming information sessions to share their experiences and insights.

A key aim is to improve understanding of flood behaviour across the municipality, supporting future flood preparedness, emergency planning and community resilience.

The study complements a separate flood investigation currently being undertaken in northern Buloke Shire by the Mallee Catchment Management Authority.

A recently completed LiDAR survey, using advanced aerial technology to capture detailed three-dimensional landscape data, will also provide critical information to support accurate flood modelling.

Objectives of the Flood Study include:

- An updated detailed flood study for Donald

- Flood management plans for Charlton and Wycheproof
- Modelling of a range of flood events, including climate change scenarios, to provide the best available information for future planning and decision-making.
- Identification and assessment of options to reduce flood risk and improve flood management in Charlton and Wycheproof.
- Review of the performance of existing flood mitigation infrastructure and works in Charlton and Donald.
- Updates to flood warning systems and emergency management plans across the study area.
