Tchum Lake – Blue Green Algae Alert

Recent water testing at Tchum Lake has revealed excessive levels of Blue Green Algae.

Warning signs have been installed around the lake to advise visitors of the risk of contact with the affected water and that swimming is currently not permitted.

Please do not enter the water until further notice.

The algae can also be harmful to pets so please avoid letting your animals swim or drink in the lake.

We will continue to monitor the water quality and provide updates as conditions improve.
