

Checking In

To help keep everyone safe – check in, everywhere, every time.

When you go to work, enter a business, shop or supermarket, visit a community venue, or attend a place of worship, you need to check in.

Record keeping is a crucial part of keeping Victorians safe and helping Victoria stay open. Fast and accurate contact information for anyone who has visited a COVID-19 public exposure site is vital to help contact tracers contain an outbreak quickly. All venues are required to check in workers and visitors and must ensure that all workers and visitors are able to check in using the free Service Victoria QR Code app.

Help stop the spread of coronavirus, and protects our businesses, our communities and each other.

Local Photography Wanted

Do you have a great eye for a photo?

Council is always on the hunt for photographs of the Buloke lifestyle and beautiful landscapes for use in the suite of key documents that we produce each year.

We are fortunate to live in a great part of Victoria, and with your help, we can demonstrate how great Buloke is by using a wide range of photography from right across our patch.

If you have a photo you'd like to share, send it in a decent resolution to buloke@buloke.vic.gov.au
Happy snapping!

Have Your Say on the Proposed New State Electoral Boundaries

Every eight years, Victoria's State electoral boundaries are reviewed and adjusted to make sure that each of the State's 88 districts and eight regions represent an approximately equal number of enrolled voters.

This formal process is called a 'redivision', and one is currently underway in Victoria.

The Electoral Boundaries Commission (EBC) is the independent and impartial statutory body responsible for a redivision. It's a consultative process that invites submissions from the public.

Electoral Commissioner Warwick Gately has issued a call to Victorians to have their say throughout the redivision.

'We encourage Victorians to contribute to the redivision process and have their say,' said Mr Gately.

'People interested in making a submission can map their proposed boundaries using the Public Submission Tool available on the EBC website.'

To look at the proposed boundaries and have your say, visit www.ebc.vic.gov.au

Submissions close this Friday, 30 July 2021.

Buloke Playspaces Trail

The Buloke Playspaces Trail has reached the next exciting phase!

The trail involves the construction of five destination play spaces in Berrivillcock, Birchip, Charlton, Donald and Wycheproof.

The play spaces will accommodate play equipment which combine adventure activities, variety, innovative design and a social atmosphere. They have been planned to reflect the cultural and environmental features of the local Buloke townships, with diverse activities to appeal to young people from infants to advanced teenage years, supplemented with social facilities to cater for families and group gatherings.

Consultation is now open and to get involved visit www.buloke.vic.gov.au.

On the page you will find the plans for each of the five playspaces as well as a link to a survey to help inform the project.

Listening posts that were recently advertised have been postponed due to current COVID-19 restrictions. Keep an eye out for new dates.
